Bryony Thatcher Photography Prices

All Weddings are unique, every schedule is different. My job is to capture memories that can last forever.

Starting from £500

I will capture your entire wedding ceremony, from the moment you step out of the car to the exiting of the church as a newly married couple. I will also provide the opportunity to have formal/informal family/friend photos and a private photo session for the Bride and Groom to get those perfect wedding photos.

Starting from £600

I start by arriving at the brides location to photograph her and the bridal party getting ready, before going to the venue to capture your entrance. The entire ceremony is photographed followed by the family and friend portraits, and private photo session.

Starting from £950

Have your entire day captured forever, cherish the memories from the moment you step into your dress to the last dance of the evening. I will be there to capture every part you had forgotten about, whether it's the blur of the ceremony to the drunken party shots. Your entire day will be caught on camera for you to keep.
